ALABAMA CONTESTS PUZZLE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Status of Three Delegations Presents Problem to Warren

BULLETIN.
By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, June 1.—Taking up the claims of the contest between delegations from Georgia, at its meeting today, the Republican national committee plunged into the first fight of real political significance to have a bearing on the strength of presidential candidates at next week's convention. The fight raged between a regularly reported delegation, unopposed but which is supposed to favor the candidacy of Governor Lowden, and a contesting delegation which has been instructed for General Wood. Both delegations have figured in the senate investigation of campaign expenditures. The regularly reported delegation headed by Henry Lincoln Johnson, an Atlanta negro, who was shown to have received $9,000 from the Lowden fund and the contesting delegation, of which faction was shown to have received at least $10,000 for the Wood fund. The second choice of the regular delegation after Governor Lowden was said to be Senator Harding. The contesting, or Pickett delegation opened the argument. Former Governor Hooper, of Tennessee, acted as attorney for them.

Chicago, June 1.—The Florida contest hearings were reopened before the Republican national committee today to hear the regular delegation and that headed by H. L. Anderson, of Jacksonville. It appeared to be generally agreed that the contest of the third delegation head by A. L. Church and W. L. Van Duzer, of Jacksonville, would not be permitted to participate in the rehearing.

The sub-committee headed by Charles B. Warren, of Michigan, advising the further hearing for the regular and Anderson factions, reported that there appeared to be no legal Republican organization in Florida. Through failure of the regular group headed by George W. Bean, of Tampa, national committee—also failure of the Anderson faction to elect a state executive committee in 1918 under the law. Mr. Warren reported that there was doubt if the Anderson faction could be recognized as a defacto organization as the undisputed evidence showed that in the primary only nineteen state committee members had been elected from 54 counties. The Bean faction, Mr. Warren stated, could not be regarded as a defacto organization.

In the District of Columbia contest, the committee voted to seat the regularly reported delegates, Frank J. Hogan and James A. Cobb, of Washington, D. C. Committeeman Howell, of Nebraska, characterizing the whole contest as a "disgraceful affair," sought to have all three delegations thrown out but his motion was lost.

Worked All Night.
A decision in three cornered fight in Florida was first on the program and next came the three cornered contest from the District of Columbia. A special sub-committee composed of Committeemen Warren, of Michigan, Dupont, of Delaware, and Parsons, of New York, spent most of the night examining the law and the facts of the Florida case and prepared a report on the claims of the contestants and possible a recommendation for a course of action by the committee.

The Florida case, in which the committee was called upon to decide whether there was in legal effect any Republican party in Florida, promised in a sense to show the first indications on the candidacies of Major General Leonard Wood, Governor Frank O. Lowden and Senator Hiram W. Johnson.

Three Delegations.
None of the three contesting delegations is pledged, but the various members say that the first or regularly reported delegation headed by National Committeeman Bean, of Tampa is favorable to General Wood; that the second delegation head by H. L. Anderson, of Jacksonville, is favorable to Senator Johnson and that the third headed A. L. Church, of Jacksonville, is favorable to the candidacy of Gov. Lowden.

When the evidence was all in last night many of the committeemen said that all three delegations seemed to them to be "defunct," but announced that they would depend upon the sub-committee headed by Committeeman Warren who is acting as legal advisor to the committee in the contests to point a way out of the muddle.

In the District of Columbia contests, the issue as to candidacies is less clearly defined, although the Wood leaders are said to be listing the delegation headed by Frank J. Hogan as among those upon whom they would depend in the convention.

Contest From Georgia.
With the Florida contest out of the way, the national committee faces the most acrimonious contest of the list, that from Georgia, where an officially reported delegation headed by Henry

DIXON EVENING TELEGRAPH

Lincoln Johnson, an Atlanta negro, is counted in the Lowden column and a contesting delegation headed by Charles Adamson, of Cedar town, is counted in the Wood column. Both delegations had figured in the hearings of the senate sub-committee investigating campaign expenditures.

The next contest on the calendar is from Louisiana where a regularly reported delegation headed by National Committeeman Emil Kuntz is being opposed by a delegation headed by Victor Lolselle of New Orleans. The contesting delegation is listed among those favorable to the Wood candidacy and to Frank H. Hitchcock.

The committee does not hope to get further than the Louisiana contest in its work today.

Things Begin To Stir.
While the national convention is grinding away at the contests things are beginning to stir about the headquarters of the convention. Chicago, already crowded with an abnormal business is beginning to show the first symptoms of a campaign week of noise and confusion. Headquarters are blossoming out with banners and lithographs, but the campaign managers have not yet emerged from the state of confident predictions. Two of the candidates—Gov. Lowden and Maj. Gen. Wood—are in the city, and Sen. Harding and Sen. Johnson will arrive later in the week.

Estimates of the probable duration of the convention are as numerous as the candidates are various some confident ones have made railroad reservations to return home on Thursday of convention week. The prediction that a presidential candidate probably will be nominated on Friday and a vice presidential candidate on Saturday seems to be regarded among most of the politicians as probably being more accurate than any other.

Tentative Program.
The generally accepted tentative program seems to be Tuesday for temporary organization and keynote speeches; Wednesday for permanent organization and work of the resolutions committee framing the platform, leaving Thursday and Friday for balloting of two days be needed.

All the politicians seem agreed that no one is going to be nominated on the first ballot, many of them are going so far as to make predictions of what is going to happen on the first, second and third. Then come the sanguine predictions and what is going to happen on the fourth.
It took three ballots in 1916 to nominate Charles Evan Hughes and that was the first time since 1836 that more than one ballot had been required to nominate a candidate. In 1900 and 1904 the nominations were made by acclamation.

Principal interest outside the national committee meetings today centered about a conference of the Wood managers which has been called to decide who is to take charge of the general's forces on the floor of the convention.

There has been talk of a showdown between Frank T. Hitchcock and William Cooper Procter, but Mr. Hitchcock's friends declared none would be precipitated by him. Mr. Hitchcock's attitude has been described as one of agreement with whatever the general's managers decide upon and his friends are saying today that anyone expecting a rumpus in the Wood camp over the question of leadership will be disappointed.

PALMER IN BITTER DENUNCIATION ASST. SEC. OF LABOR POST

Charges Official Has Perverted Sympathy for Anarchists

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, June 1.—Charging that Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of labor, had a "perverted sympathy" for the criminal anarchist, Attorney General Palmer told a house committee today that in dealing with dangerous aliens Mr. Post had employed a "self-willed and autocratic substitution of his own mistaken personal viewpoint for the obligations of the public law."

Mr. Palmer was testifying before the rules committee which is investigating the official conduct of Mr. Post in departmental proceedings. "By his wholesale jail deliveries and release of seven self-confessed anarchists of the worst type," the attorney general said, "he has utterly nullified the purpose of congress in passing the deportation statute."

"Outrageous Falsehoods"
Mr. Palmer said he hoped it might never be necessary to indulge in any criticism of another government official, but the outrageous and unconscionable falsehoods laid before the committee by Mr. Post required definite answers.

"It is not surprising," he added, "that Mr. Post when the opportunity presented itself in an official way to render a service to those who advocated force and violence, should employ it to the limit. He has always been sympathetic with that sort of thing."

He quoted from editorials written by Mr. Post when he was editor of The Public, a magazine which the attorney general called "very radical."

Found Many Guns.
Regarding Mr. Post's assertion that "with all of these sweeping raids, only three pistols have been found," Mr. Palmer declared that while the number of guns found in no way indicated the potential danger of the aliens, department agents not only found scores of them but bombs and other implements of destruction as well.

Charges by Jackson H. Ralston, counsel for Mr. Post that the department of justice had provoked agents in service who were engaged in forming new Communist local organizations against which raids could be conducted, were charged by the attorney general as deliberate and unwarranted falsehoods.

Sterling Doctor's Medicine Costly to Threatened Patient

William House of Sterling left home last evening for a little outing, and after consulting a physician, who he says charged him one dollar for the prescription and then a druggist who charged him three more for a pint of whiskey, he came to Dixon. The physician had prescribed that William, who claims no relationship to the Colonel, take two tablespoonfuls of the beverage in an egg nog twice daily to ward off the ravages of a dreaded attack of malaria.

House got off the interurban car at 8 o'clock and staggered into the arms of Officer Wheatsten, who required no assistance as a reception committee and escorted the stranger to the city building where he rested over night. This morning he admitted that he had overlooked purchasing the eggs required for the nog as prescribed by the Sterling specialist and when arraigned before Justice Hanneken, he was assessed a fine of $10 and costs, amounting to $13.40. Counting the specialist's fee of one dollar and the price of the pint, House was the loser to the extent of about $17.40.

Washington, June 1.—Operation by the United States Steel Products Co. of a line of steamers between ports on the east and west coasts via the Panama canal is held by the Interstate Commerce Commission not to violate the prohibitions of the Panama canal act. Some existing contracts remain to be carried out by the United States Grain Corporation which has been the instrumentality of the government in handling the wheat. As soon as these contracts have been executed the corporation will wind up its affairs.

Licensing of dealers in wheat and wheat products has been in the hands of the wheat director and the food administration and this automatically ended today.

It seems to be established that the local point of the outbreak is the warehouses of one of the docking companies and it is considered certain that rats transmitted the plague, as a number of dead rodents have been found near these warehouses.

Vera Cruz is completely cut off from the rest of the Republic. In the opinion of the medical authorities the plague has not yet attained the character of an epidemic and they believe it can be controlled.

Washington, June 1.—The United States senate was heckled from the galleries today by a dozen women sympathizers with the cause of Irish freedom.

The women began their volley of inquiries when Senator Brandegee, Republican, Connecticut made a passing reference to the "ravishes of the Hun."

"Why not eject the English Hun from Ireland?" shouted the first interrupter.
"Didn't give my boy to —" began another woman, but an usher pointed upon her before she finished the sentence.

Under sharp orders from Vice President Marshall the ushers had put out a half dozen of the disturbers and restored order when the questioning suddenly broke out fresh.

"Why don't you put them out?" asked the vice president. "Haven't you enough nerve to remove them?"
"You haven't nerve to go against England, not any of you," replied one of the women as she completed a hasty exit under escort of an usher.

He succeeds Justice Frank K. Dunn, of Charleston. The change is made under the rules of the court under which a presiding justice is elected each year.

A case involving constitutionality of the 1919 primary election law is the most important on the docket for argument this term. Attorney General Edward J. Brundage is expected to urge the court to give a decision on this case at the close of the June term.

The case was brought to the supreme court on a writ of error from the municipal court of Chicago where William Fox was convicted of voting fraudulently at the primary election, April 13, last. Attorneys for Fox attacked the constitutionality of the law. The session of the court will probably last until June 15.

Bryan Urges Labor Court for Nation

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, June 1.—W. J. Bryan, appearing today before the senate labor committee, urged creation of a permanent tribunal of investigation for the adjustment of labor controversies. Mr. Bryan suggested this tribunal as a substitute for the proposal to establish a federal industrial court similar to that in Kansas. Under Mr. Bryan's plan the tribunal would have no power to enforce its findings but would leave the parties of the controversy to full action after their case had been fully investigated.

The only agency for enforcement, he said, would be public opinion.
Mr. Bryan declared his opposition to the industrial court was because it was essentially a court of arbitration. Mr. Bryan pointed out that labor troubles might be averted if time were taken for thorough investigation.

Corn Prices Went Up With Big Rush.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 1.—Corn prices went up with a rush today. The chief reason was that receipts were not nearly as large as had been looked for. Besides, possibilities of further railway labor difficulties acted as a stimulus to buyers, who meanwhile appeared to ignore any chance of bearish effects from an increase of the federal reserve discount rate. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/4¢ decline to 2¢ advance were followed by a sharp general upturn in values. Bullish crop reports gave independent strength to oats. After opening 1/4¢ to 1 1/2¢ higher, including July at 89¢ to 89 1/2¢ the market continued to ascend.

Declines in the price of hogs weakened provisions. Most of the dealings were in hard. Persistent commission house buying kept lifting the market until it reached 1 1/2¢, then something of a bearish reaction took place owing to views expressed regarding the dry decision by the supreme court. Prices closed unsettled 1/4¢ to 6 1/2¢ net higher with July 1.72 1/2 to 1.73 and September 1.58 1/2 to 1.58 3/4.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

(Copyright, 1920, N. E. A.)

Strawberries are a rather tender fruit, called by dealers "soft."

The care the housekeeper gives the fruit after it comes to her greatly determines the attractiveness of it.

Strawberries always need thorough washing and if very sandy sometimes need to stand in water for a few minutes to loosen the grains of sand. Water poured directly over berries will crush them and make them soft and mushy.

An easy way to wash berries of any sort is to hull the fruit into a colander. Place the colander in a big pan of fresh water and gently lift and lower the berries into and out of the water. This causes a swishing of the water that has not enough force to hurt the fruit but does dislodge any particles of dirt.

My Own Recipes.
In this dinner the dessert furnishes the greatest amount of protein. The meat, of course, gives a certain amount of protein, but it also furnishes fat and bulk, bulk in that it satisfies the appetite. The orange salad cuts the fat and supplies mineral. As pork is a hard food to digest, the amount eaten needs to be small and the necessary vitamins are supplied in the other foods.

SCALLOPED CELERY.
2 cups celery diced in inch pieces.
1 cup celery stock.
2 tablespoons butter.
2 tablespoons flour.
1 cup milk.
1/2 cup chopped cheese.
1 cup fine bread crumbs.
1/2 cup coarse buttered crumbs.
Salt and pepper.

Cook celery in water to cover until tender. Save 1 cupful of celery stock and add to milk. Melt butter, add flour and slowly add liquid, stirring constantly. Add salt, pepper, cheese and celery. Line a buttered baking dish with fine bread crumbs. Add a layer of celery, a layer of crumbs and so on until all is used. Cover with buttered crumbs and brown in a hot oven.

NEVER-FAIL ICING.
White 1 egg.
1 cup sugar.
1 tablespoon water.
1 teaspoon vanilla.

Put white of egg, sugar and water in top of double boiler. Set over boiling water and beat with a Dover beater for 4 minutes. Remove from heat and spread on cakes.

There is one commodity always plentiful, though often a drug on the market—advice. MARY.

It Needs Only "Just One"

Each Does a Different Laxative, "They Never Wear Out."

The modern, scientific way is to never use the same laxative twice in succession. This avoids the danger of overworking one organ while leaving another congested and sluggish. The new idea is to stir up one organ today, another tomorrow, and so on, keeping all up to maximum efficiency without injuring any.

"Just One" is the only laxative in which this plan is carried out. Each of the twenty tablets is a box of "Just One" is a full, regular, correct dose of a different laxative than the other nineteen. No two alike, though all look alike. Each is best of its kind, pleasant and thorough in action and a successful formula proved by years of use.

Your system can't become used to and unresponsive to "Just One." You never increase the dose. "Just One" is always enough; hence, the name.

You'll like this new idea. So get "Just One" today. Any druggist anywhere can get "Just One" for you or we will send it postpaid upon receipt of 25c per box. Perritone Chemical Council Bluffs, Iowa.

SWIMMING

Now is the season when small boys are drawn to swimming holes
as by some natural instinct.

But swimming isn't natural, for humans. Man is the only animal which cannot swim without being taught. A few persons can swim
the first time they enter the water,
but these individuals are rare indeed.

Some savage peoples are accomplished swimmers. Doubtless swimming is ancient. But in the history of civilization there were long periods when swimming was a lost art.

Some ancient peoples reached a high grade of civilization without realizing that swimming was possible.

One was the Babylonians, year 2000
B. C.

They had a law that if one person accused another, the accused might undertake to prove his innocence by jumping into the river. If he drowned, his accuser got his property. If he escaped, he got his accuser's property and the accused was put to death.

This was known as "trial by water."
In that day a jump off the dock might well be called the great adventure, not only for the jumper, but also for the one who inspired it.

Men clung to the notion of trial
by ordeal even after swimming became known. But then it was necessary to reverse the test. The one who escaped was held guilty. The one the virtuous water received and held as its own was considered innocent. In this fashion, trial by water was practiced in Europe in A. D. 900.

That the innocent might survive to enjoy his acquittal, a rope was tied to him before he jumped, so that at the final moment he might be hauled out and revived.

It is doubtful if swimming was well understood even then. For an accomplished diver might easily have proved himself innocent of any charge
by the water test.

No longer is it possible to win a law suit by swimming. But swimming is recognized as an aid in retaining one great prize. That prize is health!

LEAVE IT TO EXPERTS

Britain's queen has indicated the designs for evening dress which meet her approval, and to which women who attend court parties must conform. There are three designs: one for debutantes, a second for young matrons, and a third for dowagers.

These designs may be varied to individual taste, but what may be called their moral limits are rigid.

Shoulder straps and bared backs are ruled out. But a generous V back is permitted young matrons. The V in the sample on view at the palace reaches nearly to the waist.

Well!

It's the queen's party. She should be permitted to say what manner of dress may be worn at it. There is no incongruity in that.

If the whole business excites smiles
when viewed from this distance, what shall be said of another official dress regulation practiced by nearly every waterside city in the United States.

Here is the spectacle of a city official, a politician, dictating what women may wear at a bathing beach.
There is something ludicrous in the usual city administration assuming to be an arbiter of taste and refinement. Usually a city administration is given all credit due it when one says it is honest, and grants no favor to the criminal.

Likely, regulation of women's bath-

BRINGING UP FATHER.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

What the Twins Found

Out to the barn flew Nancy and Nick to see if Sleeker Swallow really knew what he was talking about, for Sleeker had told them he had seen Jocko in the hay loft in the barn last summer.

As it was almost time for another summer, and the hay was nearly used up, the children thought they could easily find their lost pet if he were really there at all.

Up the ladder they scrambled in their little Green Shoes and peered about eagerly in the sweet smelling twilight. It was quiet in the barn, but outside all the world was singing, such a merry, joyous chorus! The twins could see through the open barn door, down the green slope to the brook, where the wild flowers were bobbing about in a merry mad romp, while the birds above

"There are some words, too!" said the Magical Mushroom called down teasing things to them from the branches. Above, through a hole under the eaves they could see white winged clouds sailing like big ships in the deep, blue ocean sky! Ah! It was a wonderful world!

But Jocko!

The hay was almost gone from the loft. There were even bare places where the boards showed through! Now for a good hunt!

"Here's some sawdust," cried Nick, dropping on his knees. "So Jocko's here somewhere."

"There are some words, too!" said the Magical Mushroom, popping out of Nancy's pocket, and running to a bare spot where a few whisks of hay lay crossed in a peculiar fashion.

Here is what the letters said:

VICE VERSA
By Edmund Vance Cooke

The cheerful ex-boozeologist
Said, "Well, I'm no apologist
For arid legislation, as you guess,
And yet I fly no signals of distress.
Why should I care?
For in my time I've had my share.
I don't see why I should repine,
For I've had mine.
Yes, I've had mine!"

The mournful prohibitionist
Said, "Well, I'm no additionist.
The law is law, so I submit,
No matter what I think of it.
But oh! why, why,
Why was it I was always dry?
And evermore must mourn my fate
That I'm too late,
Too late! too late!"

HOW'S YOUR STEAM?

BY ROGER W. BARSON.

The other day they backed a little dinky switch engine up to a big motorg locomotive and coupled them.

The switch engine had a full head of steam, the big engine about half a head.

Throttles were opened, there was much moaning and groaning, then the switch engine started off down the track dragging this great locomotive after it, much to the amusement of the onlookers.

Now men, like steam engines, are all built about alike. The difference is in the matter of steam.

Going down hill or running on a level where everything is smooth, they all look and act about alike.

But when they hit an uphill pull,
when conditions are against them,
then you see which of them have the stuff—which of them climb on regardless of obstacles and which puff and wheeze and complain.

There are a lot of "switch engine"
men well up in the world of business, who got there because they had the steam, because they worked harder and longer than their competitors.

It's steam that counts. The difference in men is a difference in energy.

Butter was first made from the milk of sheep and goats and later it was made from the cream taken from cow's milk.

O, life seemed to dare me tint her any darker, mauve hue, I had sat about all winter nursing grouches not a few. Every human hope I belted in my fine, ironic way—when one day the snows all melted and the sun came out to stay. Then an impulse came—a horning in among the others there, and it said, "It's Sunday morning, beat it now and take the air." So with that I went a-walking by the river's calm expanse and I heard the jay-bird talking and inviting to the dance, and I saw the sunlight glisten on the plug hats of the gents, heard the flappers saying, "Listen, soda's down to twenty cents." And the air was bright and snappy, everybody wore a smile, even the poodle dog was happy, only I was low and vile. Then unto my home I hurried, filled with sudden vermal fire, many books that had me worried I consumed upon a pyre, and I turned up all the papers as I saw the blazes rise. Then when I was through my labor, and before I hit the hay, I went forth and got my neighbor and we sang a roundelay.

SCHOOL HYGIENE

A school child should receive an careful attention physically as it does mentally. Medical supervision of schools is the means by which many physical defects that should receive attention are recognized and corrected. In sections where there is no medical supervision of the schools many children attend school with some physical handicap that very materially retards their progress unconscious of the fact that their slow progress is due to some physical defect that could be remedied. An education is difficult to obtain even under the best conditions. All physical handicaps should be removed through health supervision of school children.

Most of the cities of the United States maintain medical supervision
over the health of the school children.
The supervision of the health of children attending school in the rural districts is even more important than the supervision of children in the city, because of the limited medical facilities in most rural districts and the poorly constructed and equipped school buildings. Competent physicians state that the defective physical condition of the young men of draft age was largely due to neglect of proper guidance during the period of the youth. The medical supervision of school children includes, in addition to the care of the physical and mental health, the surroundings
of the child at school, as the heating,
lighting, ventilation and cleanliness of the school building, provision of proper toilet and bathing facilities,
and a suitable playground.

Q. Is "cross-eyes" curable without operation? My 5-year-old boy is troubled this way. What shall I do?

A. A condition of the eyes in young children that is very disfiguring and is usually neglected or ignored is that of squint or "cross-eyes."

It occurs usually between the ages of 2 and 6 years, and comes on gradually at first. There is a common belief that children will outgrow cross-eyes. This is not true. When left untreated the tendency is for the condition to grow worse.

Children with cross-eyes should have medical attention as early as possible because in the majority of cases properly fitted glasses will restore the eyes to their normal condition.

JUST JOKING

Ingratitude

A man and woman were walking on the Coney Island board-walk in an-sation grew more and more animated.

It rose to shouts on the man's part

the man up with his fist and knocked the woman down. She took the blow was heard to say in rather bitter accents:

Confessions of a Bride
(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

"What about Chrys' long sleep at the hacienda? What was it?"

Our discussion ament the startling revival of spiritualism in the United States had left each of us about where he or she started. Chrys was for the doctrine. She is a mystic by temperament. Spence was violently opposed to it and was planning to come out publicly and join the forces which were fighting it. Bob had an intense interest in both sides as providing absorbing reading matter for a man of books; Jim ridiculed it and had a grand time in so doing; and I was confused by my own queer experience even after I had heard Spence's positive statements concerning them.

I didn't wish to have the discussion close without getting an answer to my question concerning Chrys' mysterious somnambulism. She had slept for days and it had been deemed unsafe to waken her. It was her condition which had kept us so long in Mexico; indirectly all our recent woes were due to that delay.

All of us looked to Jordan Spence for an opinion since he was a physician of renown.

"Miss Lorimer was hypnotized, I conclude from the evidence you have each handed me from time to time. The venerable Camilla was probably one of the grandest hypnotists of this or any other time. It's a pity the old woman is dead. I would like to study her methods," he added.

"She was sure some expert," put in my husband. "At one time she had most of the Lorimer tribe under her control."

I flushed guiltily although it wasn't clear why I should feel like a criminal because the old woman had hypnotized me. I flushed just because Bob had spoken in a particular way he has. That blush was the first disagreeable little shock I had had since our reunion. I wished that I could stop blushing for nothing at all as I had done a thousand times since our marriage. Bob certainly had an unfortunate influence upon me. I was glad to hear Spence speak again.

"You cannot prove anything about spiritualism by anything in hypnotism. Without a doubt, mediums employ hypnotism to deceive individuals as well as crowds. Of course we all admit that hypnotism exists as a fact. The word is from the Greek. It means 'sleep.' The practice was known to ancient conjurers. It is employed today by reliable physicians in curing hysteria, sometimes in working moral reform, in nervous diseases."

"Like shell-shock," interrupted Bob.

"But it hasn't a thing to do with the truth or falsity of spiritualism," Spence continued. "People think it has because an individual in a hypnotic sleep reacts easily to the power of suggestion. Dame Camilla put Miss Lorimer to sleep and kept her asleep in a manner truly scientific. I guess witches have been burned at the stake just because they possessed similar power."

"Donna Camilla said that Chrys' soul had left her body and it would be lost if Chrys was awakened before her soul came back," I said, just to make Spence talk a little longer on the subject.

"That is an ancient belief and a primitive one. Today, certain natives of Australia believe that when they are asleep their 'other selves' visit strange places and that they often talk with the dead. Plainly, that is a savage's interpretation of a dream."

"And so we go round and round in a circle. Hypnotism is not a manifestation of the occult, neither is a dream," said Chrys. "But lots of persons confuse both with spiritualism. If the latter could be only separated and be made to stand alone, perhaps you cynics would grow tolerant," she remarked a bit crossly.

Later in the day when Bob and I were alone together, I said:
"Chrys is so mystical and such a firm believer in spiritualism. Jordan Spence is so opposed to it. What kind of a marriage will theirs turn out to be, do you think?"

RASCUS RUNS.

What would American humor do it
it were not for the Colored Brother?
Hundreds of the most persistent Yankee jokes are based upon the idiosyncracies of the Afro-American and his superstitious nature, his frankness in giving 'way to fear and the great speed of which he is supposed to be capable on such occasions.
Instances of this are stories of the negro who would not join the cavalry
because he "didn't" want to be bottered with no horse" in case of a retreat and of the one who testified at the trial after the riot that he had heard the bullet twice, "once when it passed me and once when I passed it."

"I'll take this one and you'll take that one; I'll take this one and you'll take that one."

That came to the afflicted ears of Rastus as he listened. "Lawdy lawdy, de's dividing de dead ones," said he to himself, preparing to move on. Just then he heard:

"And when we get the one on the other side of the hedge we'll be just even."

And two frightened boys ever after wondered what made the colored man yell in horror and dash away at full speed.

BATTERY PLATES ARE DELICATE

Local Vesta Dealer Points Out Troubles Likely to Come From Careless Handling of Battery

"Few motorists realize how easily a battery may be spoiled through careless treatment," said the manager of the Wilson Auto Co. Garage of the Vesta Battery Service Station. "The most sensitive parts of the battery are the plates. If these become damaged, a new battery is needed, for damaged plates cannot be repaired so they will function properly. A battery can hold only a certain amount of current. If the electrical charging system of your car is not regulated right, it may deliver more current than the battery can absorb and overheat the battery. Naturally something has got to go. Generally it is the positive plates. If the temperature reaches about the boiling point of water the plate will break down or will show, when the battery is opened, that they have been burnt. This is indicated by the loosened active material or by buckling of the plates.

"Another danger to the plates," according to the manager, "is that of having them charged in the wrong direction. This happens when the battery has been put into the car in correctly and the connections have been reversed. This is a common mistake by motorists in installing a newly charged battery—an operation that should always be left to the service station. If the current is not delivered to the battery in the wrong direction for too long a time, the battery may be restored by recharging in the right direction, but even then the life of the battery has been greatly shortened. As a rule, however, a battery which has been charged in the wrong direction is beyond hope.

"If it is necessary to charge the battery in a car it is better to bring it to a service station where the work will be done by experts. Vesta Service Stations everywhere have earned the good-will of the motorist by the interest they take in his battery, no matter what make it is. Experts are always at hand to inspect your battery free of charge and can often make suggestions which will help to add many months of service to its life."

LIFE WAS A MISERY TO HER

Says this Woman Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak, languid, had no energy and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. CAMP GRANT MATCH

Dixon Fans Rewarded for Trip to Rockford
Yesterday

A goodly number of boxing enthusiasts from Dixon attended the Decoration Day show at the Camp Grant arena last evening and returned home very much pleased with the bill. Captain Herrick of the camp athletic department announced that the shows would be staged every two weeks during the summer at the camp arena provided that they received the proper support. While some changes were necessary in last evening's program the bill gave very good satisfaction and every number was a feature.

Leo Patterson, of St. Louis, and Jeff "Spider" Juice, of Howard, of Camp Grant, both colored, were principals in the star attraction of the evening. They were scheduled to go ten rounds but Patterson, who was much the best boxer, sent in a body blow over the heart early in the second round, scoring a knockout. Eddie De Beau, of Minneapolis, was to have met Marty Henderson, of Joliet, but the latter was unable to appear on account of an injury and Captain Herrick was successful in securing Freddie Yenke, of Aurora, who stepped the route with the Minneapolis boxer and gave a very creditable account of himself, although De Beau had the best of the match. Jack Belford, of Caledonia, was ordered out of the ring by Referee William "Red" Ryan in the third of an eight round mill for the poor showing made by him against Bud Clancy, of Detroit. Belford covered and crouched from the start and while Clancy rained in ripping blows and upper cuts his opponent kept covered.

With this disappointment, Captain Herrick announced that the war department rules for boxing in camps stipulated that the principals in a boxing match would have to box when they entered the ring or the match would be called off. The Johnny Cannon, Camp Grant, and Young Jeffries, of Des Moines, match was cancelled, the latter boxer not making his appearance. In the curtain raiser, Sammy Mondell, of Rockford, who has been seen in action in Dixon, knocked out his opponent, Kid Unger, of Camp Grant, in the third of a scheduled six round bout.

In spite of the cautious and somewhat pessimistic views of the bankers of the country, manufacturers are maintaining an optimistic outlook and giving material expression to their confidence in the future by large investments of capital in additional plants.

Suspect Strangers
Purposed Robbery
of W. Brooklyn Bank

It is reported that three strange men were seen loitering about the bank in the village of West Brooklyn early Sunday morning, and it is believed were present for the purpose of breaking into the institution. Some of the citizens of the town had planned a fishing trip to Dixon and were to start from Brooklyn at 1:30 Sunday morning and it was while they were gathering that the presence of the three strangers was discovered. The attention of the fishermen was at first attracted by the presence of a stranger who stood on the walk in front of the bank as two of the members of the fishing party approached. Very shortly two more men stepped out of the doorway and hurried away from the scene. One of the fishermen waited nearby while the other went after a shot gun but when he had returned, the strange trio had made good their escape and no trace of them could be found.

Winner of Big Auto
Race to Get Big Sum

By Associated Press Leased Wire Indianapolis, Ind., June 1.—Gaston Chevrolet, of Indianapolis, who won the eighth annual renewal of the 500 mile automobile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday in an Indianapolis built car will be awarded his trophies at a banquet to be given at the drivers by the citizens of Indianapolis tonight. For his triumph he will receive the Speedway prize of $20,000; citizens' lap of $1,200 for leading the field during the last 13 laps; at least $5,000 of the $15,000 to be divided among the drivers using accessories of certain automobile manufacturers and the Wheeler-Schebler cup, the Prest-O-Lite trophy and the Strauss silver tea set.

Provost Guards to Waukegan to Stop Riot

By Associated Press Leased Wire Chicago, June 1.—Rioting between sailors and marines from the Great Lakes naval training station and negroes at Waukegan, a suburb, which for a time threatened to assume serious proportions, was brought under control early today after 200 additional provost guards were hurried to Waukegan in motor trucks.

Shock-Absorbers
For False Teeth

Cleveland, May 1.—Non-Skid Shock Absorbers for false teeth are the latest thing. Heretofore the principle of shock absorbers has been limited to application of a chemical compound which concerns an adhesive powder which sprinkled upon "store teeth," forms a smooth cushion, holds them firmly in place, and gives a "non-skid" effect while they romp over the toughest, roughest ears of corn and chew the stickiest candy.

One who has lost his natural teeth can supply himself with this antiseptic, adhesive comfort powder—Coreg—at a drug store, and proceed to laugh and sneeze, crack nuts and do other hazardous things without risk of shaking his prized false teeth from their upper and lower berths. 35c a druggists.—Adv.

Special Steels Eliminate Useless Weight in a

MAXWELL

The reason the Maxwell engine is so responsive and yet thrifty, the reason the tires roll into big mileage is due largely to one fact: A Maxwell is burdened with no useless weight.

Special steels make this so. They are made to Maxwell's own formulae. No other steels in any car are just like them.

These special steels are of great strength and make possible the ideal Maxwell construction of brute strength with light weight.

Obviously, they are high priced metals. They equal, pound for pound, the steels in any car built.

The wisdom of their use in the Maxwell becomes evident when one observes the rapid growth in public favor of this remarkable car.

Consider that nearly 400,000 of them are now in use; that 100,000 more will be added to this total in 1920.
